

RHINELANDER IS AN EASY WINNER

Team Takes Two Games From Oconto With But Very Little Effort.

Oconto suffered two severe drubbings at the hands of Belliel's aggregation, Saturday and Sunday. The first act resulted in a shut-out 9 to 0 and in the second performance Rhinelander was permitted to do a Marathon around the bases until the final count stood 19 to 2. It was like confiscating confection from the mouth of a two year old and even hard hearted old Charles Augustus Belliel felt a sense of shame at what his proteges had done. Oh, it was so easy!

In Saturday's exhibition Deakin occupied the center of the arena, and was as stingy as a Baxter Street pawnbroker, letting the canning factory boys down with three hits and showing himself master of the situation at all times.

After the first onslaught of Belliel's hitting kids Oconto displayed a bout as much spirit as a band of wooden Indians.

Blackburne made his initial appearance at the first corner and did well, accepting twelve chances without a skip and copping two hits.

Sunday's Game
Sunday's game, if it may be termed such, was a swat-fest, Rhinelander clouting the horse hide for twelve hits for a total of nineteen bases.

The infield played woolly ball Weckler kicking a couple to the high weeds while Jastrum uncorked two bum chucks to first. By air tight pitching "Hutch" kept the visiting bunch from scoring until Rhinelander was exhausted from constant navigating around the sacks and let two runs across the lot. Following is the tale of the terrible crime in detail:

TOMAHAWK CHAUTAUQUA

Full Program Appears In This Issue
Of The New North

In this week's issue of New North will be found a complete outline of the program of Tomahawk Chautauqua. There is certainly a lot of excellent talent to appear. We are assured that the less-known names on the program are of the same quality as the others. They have been engaged for that reason and are now making their reputation.

The musical and entertainment companies can not be adequately described. Their reputation as Chautauqua entertainers on a big scale is of the highest class. For instance the "Castle Square Entertainers" (vaudeville men from Castle Square Theatre, New York) use four kinds of instruments in quartettes beside piano, and whistling solo, and singing and readings. The men behind this movement are reliable and are understating rather than exaggerating the quality of the attractions. There is always more of high quality entertainment, instruction and inspiration to be had from the Chautauqua than can be described especially where the best attractions have been engaged. Camping site and facilities are the best imaginable.

MILITIA BOYS MUST KEEP CLEAN

Capt. Walker Gets Orders That Co. L. Members Must Wash In Camp.

According to orders issued by Adj. Gen. C. R. Boardman and received by Capt. D. H. Walker, the boys of Co. L will be obliged to keep clean as to their personal appearance while in camp next month.

The orders read that the members of the Wisconsin National Guard will have to wash their faces and hands before each meal and their feet once a day during their stay at Camp Douglas. Members will also have to remove their shoes and outer clothing when they retire for the night. These new rules will be enforced rigidly and it is expected that the boys will be as spick and span as the natives of "Spotless Town."

In preparation for the annual encampment Co. L is beginning to drill on camp work and much time is being devoted to guard duty and extending orders.

Following are the dates on which the state militia will be in camp: Third Infantry and Tenth separate battalion shall be in camp from July 8 to 14, First Infantry from July 15 to 21. Second Infantry and troop A, from July 21 to 23. This encampment is to be at Camp Douglas. Battery A is to camp at the United States reservation near Sparta from Sept. 12 to 20.

DECORATE GRAVES

Scandinavian Lodge Holds Memorial Services Sunday.

Sunday was Memorial Day of the S. H. & E. F. of A. lodge and the members of the society did not permit the occasion to pass unnoticed. In the afternoon they marched from their hall on N. Brown street to Forest Home cemetery where they placed flowers on the graves of their departed brothers.

A. C. Danielson, president of the supreme lodge, conducted a brief Memorial service which was very impressive.

FALLS FROM WHEEL

A. S. DANIELSON IS MADE PRESIDENT

Rhineland Man Gets Highest Honor At S. H. & E. F. of A. Convention

At the biennial convention of the Scandinavian Aid and Fellowship Society at Negaunee last week, A. C. Danielson of this city was elected President. Other officers chosen were:

Vice Pres.—Albert Bjork, Ishpeming.
Past Pres.—S. M. Anderson, Eveleth, Minn.
Secretary—Oscar W. Samuelson, Cloquet, Minn.

Marshall—Oliver Johnson, Negaunee, Mich.
Chaplain—C. Holm, Grand Forks, British Columbia.

Mr. Danielson has always taken an active part in S. H. & E. F. of A. affairs and it was largely through his efforts that the convention of the order was secured for Rhinelander two years ago. The honor which his brother members throughout the country has bestowed upon him is one which he rightly deserves and stands as a worthy recognition of his past services for the lodge.

Speaking of the Negaunee convention Mr. Danielson said that it was one of the most successful and enjoyable ever held in the history of the lodge. The visiting delegates were royally entertained and many special features were introduced for their benefit.

An inspection trip was made to the first iron mine ever opened on that range. This mine is the property of the Jackson Mining Company and was discovered in 1845. The discovery was made by an Indian who had shot a deer and was preparing to cook some of the meat. While digging a hole in which to start a fire the vein of rich iron was exposed. The story of this finding of a valuable mine is well known to the residents of the upper peninsula.

Mr. Danielson was surprised to see the large number of road improvements in the northern Michigan country. Many of the rural highways are macadamized. He learned that for every mile of macadamized road built by a county, there the state contributes $1000 toward the expense of same. This encourages the construction and maintenance of good roads.

The next convention of the S. H. & E. F. of A. lodge will be held at Duluth in 1913.

And Sunday.

Two real base ball games will be played in this city next Saturday and Sunday when Grand Rapids and Rhinelander clash. All the fans are looking forward to these contests with more than usual interest as at Grand Rapids two weeks ago the two teams broke even, each winning a game.

It is hinted that the Wood county line-up has been strengthened expressly for these games and the local bunch may find it difficult to cop off the big end of the scores. Rhinelander fans are confident of victory, however, and the betting is lively.

Marion's strong team will play Rhinelander here Saturday and Sunday, June 24 and 25.

The new postal bank at the Rhinelander postoffice, opened for business Monday, morning. Although this is only the fourth day of the bank's existence there has been several depositors and the opinion is expressed that the new department will be heavily patronized. The installation of the bank has as yet caused no increase in the clerical force at the postoffice and it will probably not be necessary to engage extra employees.

Richard Reed, assistant postmaster, is very well satisfied with the encouraging conditions under which the postal bank here opens. He looks for the business to develop into large proportions.

At the Congregational church Sunday morning a splendid program was held in honor of Children's Day. A large number of members and visitors attended the exercises which consisted of recitations, vocal and musical numbers and a short address by the pastor, Rev. Grant Clark.

Mrs. Dr. Richards and Miss Isabell Johnson each contributed a solo, both of which were greatly appreciated. Mr. Reik gave a selection on the violin and also rendered a song. This was a delightful part of the program.

The singing of the children who comprise the Sunday school classes was exceptionally pleasing as were also the numbers by the little tots of the kindergarten department. The decorations of the church were very pretty, potted plants and flowers lending to the attractiveness of the scene.

A VERY UNRULY GOAT

The following story by Judge Ryan of Cranbrook, B. C., who is a personal friend of M. McEachin of this city, was handed in by M. McEachin for publication.

The judge was telling of an incident that happened at the last Dublin fair he attended before he left Ireland. It was about a goat that broke out of his pen and took after a boy. In finishing the story the judge rose from his chair, knocked the ashes from his pipe and delivered himself thusly:

"The goat hurled the previous end of his anatomy against the boy's afterwards with an eagerness and velocity which, backed by the goat's avardupols, imparted a momentum that was not relaxed until the indignation of the vehement exasperation was landed on terra firma, beyond the pale of the goat's jurisdiction."

TO market the products of its fields; forests and waters, the great rich northwest demanded more adequate transportation facilities. Responding to this demand came the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound Railway. With a speed unequalled in engineering annals the new line was constructed across the Dakotas, Montana, Idaho and Washington, and forms the shortest line between the Great Lakes and the Puget Sound. Freight service has been in operation for over a year and on May 28th, last, through passenger service was inaugurated. "The Olympian" and "The Columbian" two beautifully equipped steel trains, are operated daily between Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Aberdeen, Seattle and Tacoma. ### GETS FAREWELL RECEPTION

D. Corbett And Wife Are Honored By Antigo Friends

Before D. Corbett, the new proprietor of the Hotel Fuller, left Antigo a farewell reception was tendered him and Mrs. Corbett by his brother Eagles and many friends. Of the occasion the Journal speaks as follows:

"D. Corbett, who left with his wife this noon for Rhinelander, was given a pleasant surprise last evening by the Eagles lodge, of which order he has been president. It was in the nature of a farewell reception and was gotten up without his knowledge. He was asked to bring Mrs. Corbett with him to their hall and found a large number of members with their wives there. Music and dancing was provided and also elegant refreshments. It was when Vice President R. Bloodern called for silence and in a short presentation speech gave Mr. Corbett a beautiful silk umbrella with the Eagles' monogram upon it. Mr. Corbett accepted it and tried to express his thanks, but words failed him, he being so taken by surprise and overcome that he could simply say "thank you" and sit down with the tears starting from his eyes."

THE STEPHENSON CASE

The esteemed Milwaukee Sentinel, while disclaiming any desire to interfere in the "quarrel between two old friends," as it terms the Stephenson case, appears to be very anxious to lay the blame as far as possible on the opponents of Stephenson. The Sentinel constantly refers to the tremendous amounts spent by Stephenson in the cause of the Progressive movement, which would make any one laugh who knows the inside history of the beginning and course of that movement. At the time that movement started and for a long time afterwards Stephenson was affiliated with the money crowd and fought La Follette hard and constantly. In 1899 Stephenson was a candidate for U. S. Senator and when Quarles was elected believed that he had been double-crossed (and there are various bits of evidence going to show that he was). This made him disgusted with his former associates and as it has always been his great desire to serve in the U. S. Senate, he conceived the plan of affiliating with La Follette, not for the purpose of helping the latter or the Progressive movement but for the purpose of getting even with those whom he felt had betrayed him and also to advance his own interests. Never has Isaac Stephenson put a dollar into the Progressive movement except for the purpose of advancing the interests of himself. He has never been a true Progressive at heart; his whole political experience has been with old order of the game, "I don't care what the other fellow does if he lets me do as I like." From the first association with Philletus Sawyer and others and in the obtaining of the timber lands which made him rich, he has agreed with the old order of politicians that the public wealth belongs to those who can get it and get it first, and that true business ability consists in getting all you can by getting a preference and special rights which the ordinary man cannot get. And it is to be expected that this man, who has been in politics all his life under such circumstances, will change at the eleventh hour and stand for the rights of the people as against predatory wealth? It never would be and never was. And now why did the break come with La Follette? La Follette had the right to accept any assistance that was offered him as long as he kept his own hands clean and made no improper deals. If Stephenson comes and says he will work with him for certain ideas, he has the right to that help. The break came when La Follette found that Stephenson was not in the Senate for the benefit of the masses of the people but for the benefit of the few and then there La Follette severed the alliance. If it had not been for his alliance with La Follette, Stephenson would never have been in the U. S. Senate and no matter what amount he has advanced the balance is still in the favor of La Follette. A further thought comes up at this time. Would the Sentinel advance the proposition that because Stephenson put money into the Progressive movement that was honestly expended, that thereby La Follette is compelled to sit idly by and keep still if Stephenson afterwards goes out and bribes half the state or uses money in any other way not lawful? The Sentinel should get out of its head that this is a fight between two former friends and consider the matter in its true light. If Senator Stephenson secured his election by honest methods, well and good, if he secured it by dishonest methods he must get out. An investigation will

"Wisconsin's greatest asset is its beauty and its scenery," said Jenkin Lloyd Jones of Chicago to a crowded assembly chamber, when he addressed a public hearing on the use of school houses as social centers, and the great value of public play grounds.

The first of the week, the U. S. Senate by an overwhelming vote passed the resolution for a constitutional amendment to have U. S. Senators elected directly by the people. Lorimer voted against this measure, we would expect him to.

TRIBUTE TO LAFOLLETTE

Last week's Saturday Evening Post pays Senator LaFollette the highest tribute. The article should be read by every good American citizen. It says they call LaFollette a fakir, and that is idiotic, for no man in the United States Senate has a broader, more comprehensive, more exact knowledge of the subjects with which he deals than this man. "The old guard feared this man from the first; they feared the special order to the special interests." "Let there be any misapprehension about it, let it be said here that LaFollette is no practical theorist but a hard-headed, hard-fisted practical man. He takes care of the people." "Honest citizens should read this article in the Saturday Evening Post; we do not expect the special interest supporters to; they know too much about La Follette now. If Senator La Follette is as bad a man as the special interest organs say he is, it is queer that all the best magazines pay him so high a tribute."

THE NEW WATER POWER LAW

The State senate has recently passed a bill regulating water powers which, if also passed by the assembly, as is practically certain, will go far towards carrying out one of the most important of the planks of the last state platform. Those who had dealings with past legislatures can well remember the flood of "dam" bills that were rushed through at each session, giving to various private concerns franchises of untold possibilities until practically every water power in the state of any possible value was gobbled up. Many of these were not improved at all but were used for speculative purposes or for floating companies of doubtful value and of less financial strength. And now, in spite of the warnings of the "Sage of the Wisconsin Valley," our friend, Neal Brown, in spite of the direful results prophesied by our friends of the water power interests, a new era is dawning for Wisconsin. The new law abolishes all franchises previously granted and compels all water power companies to come in and apply to the Railroad Commission for a franchise which will be granted them for twenty years upon such recompense to the state as the Commission shall determine it is worth. If no other thing was accomplished by the present legislature this one act alone would repay the state for its existence and expense. The old days of putting through these franchises without any return to the state and in most cases by the expenditure of money to the members of the legislature are gone, never to return. The opponents of this law have said that regulation of these companies by the state would retard development but why these companies, which pay exceptionally large dividends should object to pay the state a reasonable amount for their franchises, which constitute the source of their entire assets, is a mystery to any thinking man. And we predict that as the regulation of railroads was to the advantage of the railroads themselves, so, in the long run, will this regulation of water powers prove an advantage and blessing to the water-power companies. It will guarantee them in their rights and a fair return upon their investments and make them more stable. Capital wants at all times a safe investment and as this law will attract capital to that class, while at the same time people of the state, who are the real owners of the navigable streams, will reap some considerable benefit from it in the funds paid to the state.

do him no harm if his record is clear. The previous investigation was a farce as the assembly members of the committee spent most of the time devising means to assist Stephenson in protecting himself.

NEW GAME LAWS

Deer Season Is Extended To Period Of Thirty Days.

Rhinelanders sportsmen will be interested to learn that the legislature has passed the game regulation bill.

As the bill now stands non-residents may not take game birds out of the state except as open hand luggage and the number of birds he may take is reduced to 25.

A clause was added to prevent any person while hunting to skin, pluck or otherwise mutilate game so that its identity may not be easily discernable. The provision to prevent sneak boat shooting was cut out entirely.

The number of ducks, geese and similar water birds that may be shot is reduced to 25 that may be had in possession at any one time.

The number of deer that may be shot was fixed at two and the provision to prevent killing of does was stricken out. The deer season was fixed from October 15 to November 30 instead of Nov. 10 to 30, but the licenses issued are good only for 25 days from date of issuance.

The season for shooting ducks, snipe, plover and woodcock is fixed at from Sept. 15 to Nov. 30.

ALUMNI HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

Closing Event Of The School Year Takes Place Saturday Evening

The Alumni banquet, the closing event of the city schools, was held at the Congregational church parlors last Saturday evening. It is to be regretted that only fifty-two were present; about fifteen former graduates. The alumni banquet should be the great event of the school year, but Rhinelanders high school graduates have not learned the habit. Although the attendance was small, from the standpoint of an enjoyable evening, the banquet was a great success.

Mr. Ray Marks, in his dry humorous way, acted as toastmaster. Miss Grace Lally delivered the president's address in her usual happy style and was responded to by Clyde Remo of the present graduating class. Luther Brown vividly portrayed early school days. Mrs. Chas. Woodcock in a humorous manner, recalled the experiences of a veteran and Supt. Harrison dwelt upon the benefits of an alumni association. The literary efforts were interspersed with music by Mrs. Hampton, Mrs. Richards, Miss Mary Langdon, Miss Maude Dimick and Miss Hattie and Miss Edna Johnson.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Ray Marks, president; Miss Della White, secretary, and Louis Fenelon, treasurer. At the close of the evening it was enthusiastically decided that an alumni banquet would be held next year.

TEACHERS ON OUTING

The following City teachers returned last night from a three days outing at T. C. Wood's cottage up the Wisconsin river: Misses Varney, Plants, Heath, Jensen and Slattery. The party also spent Saturday and Sunday at Moon's Lakes.

DR. CLAXTON ON UNIVERSAL PEACE

Noted Speaker Tells How Useless a Thing Is War—Vast Waste of Money

Owing to the excessive warm weather and a strenuous commencement week only a small audience heard the lecture by Dr. P. P. Claxton, of the University of Tennessee, on Universal Peace at the Grand Opera House, Friday evening. This fact is to be regretted as Dr. Claxton is a forceful speaker and his topic was one which is commanding considerable attention in the civilized world to-day.

Dr. Claxton told of the enormous cost to a nation of being constantly prepared for war. One has scarcely any conception of the great expense of maintaining the army and navy. He gave the idea that at each of the big capitals of the world there are lobbies for the purpose of originating war scares and frightening the people into making large appropriations for the armies and navies. These useless expenditures, the speaker said, could be avoided, if the countries would form an agreement to settle all disputes by arbitration, even questions of national honor.

Dr. Claxton told of the vast good which could be accomplished throughout the nation by investing the wealth now spent in war preparations for educational purposes. All of the state universities could be maintained with this money and still the sum would not be entirely spent.

PROMINENT ELK HERE

IS AGAIN CHOSEN REGENT

Ed. Lleness is retained by the Sons of Norway.

Ed. Lleness and Ed. Rodd returned Tuesday from Hudson, Wis., where they attended the grand lodge meeting of the Sons of Norway. Mr. Lleness was re-elected regent of this district. It was voted to hold the 1912 convention at Fargo, N. D. The gentlemen speak highly of the entertainment accorded the delegates by the people of Hudson. The keys of the city were turned over to them and they were made to feel at home in every way.

A LUDICROUS PICTURE

James Kearns, who shows considerable ability as an artist, has drawn an amusing crayon picture of the new Rhinelander liquor dealers base ball club. His caricatures of "Gabe" Daniels, Otto Krantz, Louis Bellel and others are laughable to say the least. The young man has been attending school for the deaf and dumb at Wausau and departs soon for Sand Point, Idaho, to join his father, Mike Kearns.

The 22d day of May, 1911, the following objections were made to said preliminary report on the proposed macadamizing, curbing and otherwise improving the aforesaid portions of the street's above named, and as to the proposed work;

(Objections)

Christ Eby appeared before said Board as the owner of the undivided half interest of Lot 2 Block 32 and all of Lot 13 Block 33 2nd addition except the north 60 feet of said lot and objects to said report, as regards to improvements of Eastern Avenue as follows:

1st. The street ought to settle before making any improvement.

Alex McRae makes the following objections:

1st. The sewer is not in a permanent condition for the reason that the main sewer is down about 23 ft. and any connection with that sewer is apt to be dug up at any time owing to the settling of the streets, and in repairing such connections you would destroy the macadam.

W. H. Gilligan also appeared before the Board and supported the same objections as Mr. McRae.

COURT'S OPINION TO DISBAR MARS

Judge Reid Decides Case Against Forest's Ousted District Attorney.

At Wausau, Saturday, Judge A. H. Reid filed an opinion with the court ordering that findings be prepared and filed disbaring J. C. Mars, district attorney of Forest county. The court took the case under advisement April 29 after four days' had been spent in hearing testimony. It is expected that Governor McGovern will declare the office vacant and appoint some one to fill the place, as soon as the findings have been prepared and the court's judgment submitted to him.

Umbreit On Opinion
The following taken from Monday's Milwaukee Sentinel is the interpretation which A. C. Umbreit, who has been acting as special district attorney of Forest county, gives of the court's decision:

Discussing the court's opinion on Sunday, A. C. Umbreit, who was named special district attorney by Governor McGovern after charges had been filed against Mars, said that, from a telephone message from his associate at Wausau, he understood that the disbarment is to run three years, after which time the court is ready to re-instate Mars, provided he has shown that his conduct during that time has been worthy; that he has restored "moneys" witnesses testified had been unlawfully retained by Mars, and that he pay $500 into the court. Mr. Umbreit did not know whether this money is to be applied toward paying the costs of the action, which have been somewhat more than $1,000. Mr. Umbreit will leave on Monday for Crandon, where several criminal actions he has started in connection with alleged misconduct by public officials are pending.

WISCONSIN'S TOBACCO SEED
During the past season 1,322 growers living in 53 counties were furnished, by the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, with 175 pounds of high-grade seed, valued at $1,400. The reports received from the growers, the tobacco buyers, and the awards made at the tobacco exhibits indicate very generally the superior merit, as to earliness, yield and quality, of seed grown from this type over that of seed from other sources. Over 300 growers reported that it matured earlier than any other variety they had used. Two hundred and fifty-nine found it a better yielder and 142 out of 563 replies indicated that the quality of leaf was better.

ATTEND STATE CONVENTION
The L. O. T. M. and K. O. T. M. lodges of Wisconsin held their state convention at Oshkosh, Tuesday and Wednesday. Mrs. Wm. Hamilton, delegate from the Rhineland L. O. T. M. lodge was unable to attend and her place was taken by Mrs. Frank Hintz, alternate delegate. Three local K. O. T. M. was represented by Carl Hanson.

FLASHES FROM THE HEADLIGHT
Bits of News Pertaining To The Soo and Northwestern Railroads

Probably the largest freight car that ever passed through Waupaca, went over the Soo line Friday morning. The capacity of the freight car was 180,000 pounds or ninety tons. It carried a giant dynamo which weighed sixty tons from New York to some point in the state of Washington on which the freight charges were $1,272.72.—Clintonville Tribune.

Press reports state that the railroads of the northwest are already making preparations for moving the bumper crops that are anticipated as the result of the present very favorable prospects. And the same conditions will soon furnish a strong impetus to trade and business all along the line.

There appears to be an unusually large number of blind baggage "tourists" on the passenger trains through Rhinelander these days. In all instances the travelers are allowed to proceed on their way unmolested without interference from the police. Chief Straub doesn't believe in causing the city needless expense by arresting hordes who are willing to keep moving.

It is well for travelers to read thoroughly the new railway rule regarding the transportation of baggage which went into effect three weeks ago. Any trunk, box or package measuring 40 inches or over, in any of its dimensions, becomes excess, the same as all pieces weighing over 150 pounds. Each additional inch or fraction means a charge equivalent to ten pounds excess rate. Pieces, except show baggage, measuring over 70 inches will be refused. The railroads also reserve the right to forward baggage on an earlier or later train than the one for which the traveler holds a ticket.

The Hurley Miner says that the ore shipping season is commencing to get a little more active. The Northwestern is now hauling about 300 cars of ore a day to the Ashland docks, an increase of about 100 cars over what was being hauled last week. It is expected that the shipments will have resumed their normal gait next month. Railroad men state that the Northwestern will have a larger class of engine, Class Z1 to handle the ore business from July on.

H. A. House is again switching in the Northwestern yards in this city. He expects to move his family here from Black Oak Lake next fall.

I had specks floating before my eyes and I felt all tired out and miserable. I saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised and got a bottle and took them according to directions and results showed almost at once. The pain and dizzy headaches left me, my eye-sight became clear and to-day I can say I am a well woman, thanks to Foley Kidney Pills."

"STOP MY PAPER"
The highest duty of an editor is to battle with wrong. This, of course, brings him in conflict with wrong doers and they are apt to show their spite in various ways. It is quite common for the thin skinned or wounded to rush into the office and shout "Stop my paper!" This class is pointedly shown up in the following fashion, says an exchange:
A certain man hit his toe on a pebble and fell headlong to the ground. He was vexed and under the influence of anger and self sufficiency he hit mother earth right sanely. With imperturbable gravity he looked to see the earth itself dissolved and come to naught. But the earth remained and only his poor foot was injured in the encounter. This is the way of man. An article in the newspaper touches him in a weak spot, and forthwith he sends to stop his paper. With great complacency he looks to see the crash, when he finds he only hit his toe against a world that does not perceptibly feel the shock, and injures no one but himself.

Arrest Pauper in Antigo on Charge of Vagrancy.
Rhinelander can support its own paupers was the decision of Judge Ogden last Monday morning when a man giving his name as Chas. Paxton was hauled into Municipal court on the charge of vagrancy. Paxton, it seems, was recently discharged from the poor house at Rhinelander and was told to get a living. In Antigo and without employment soon had to beg for a living. Paxton is a man of about 65 years of age and unable to work. He was given a return trip ticket to Rhinelander and has once more returned to enjoy the hospitality of the Oneida County poor house.—Antigo Republican.

SHOULD PUSH THE NEW COUNTY ROAD

Practically Nothing Is Now
Being Done On Building
Of Highway

The Town of Cassian has built the two miles of road that they had to build, in its own town from the Tomahawk river to the Town of Woodboro, and there it rests now, Cassian is anxious to go ahead and keep on building, as it has teams and men on the ground, and conditions are good for continuing the work. The committee having the road in charge report that there was an error in the resolution authorizing the work, as it specified laying and building the road on the line of the survey made by G. W. Smith, and this was simply a straight line, no detours provided for. D. H. Vaughan has since gone over the entire line, and laid out detours, and it is now necessary to call the board together again for a long enough period to pass the proper resolution, and then there will be some work done. Crescent has some money to use on the road, and undoubtedly the Towns of Newbold and Woodboro have also.

The Donald Bill, which passed the legislature lately, giving state aid for county roads is a measure intended to be of great service to Northern Wisconsin counties, but it is hardly apt to be of any benefit this year. In the first place the Governor has a commission to appoint; it may take several months to do this, then comes the outlining of a distinctive policy to pursue, and then the employment of civil engineers to examine and correct the lines of prospective roads. By that time the commission will be completely buried in applications for state aid, and everyone will be just as anxious to get it as we are. If we wait for state aid to get that road it will simply be out over another year, and we need the road NOW.

This county needs a complete system of roads, to Pelican, to Monico, to Hazelhurst, to Three Lakes, and it would be a good plan to lay out and build them, while this state aid is being paid. It is quite possible that the next legislature may entirely remodel the Donald Bill, and perhaps kill it altogether. The county should get in its applications for all it needs and get them under way inside of the next two years.

As for the road in question, it is hoped that the board will advance the work as much as possible.

RHINELANDER HAS SHOW FOR NORMAL

Mr. Stevens Succeeds In Getting Bill Engrossed For Final Passage

After a continuous hard fight in the assembly floor, D. B. Stevens has succeeded in getting engrossed bill No. 10 A for the next Normal school to be erected in Rhinelander. Final action on this bill will not be taken until next Tuesday as business calls Mr. Stevens home over Sunday. It may be necessary for a delegation to go to Madison, Monday, to help make a desperate fight for final passage of the bill. Mr. Stevens should be given every encouragement in this undertaking. All citizens should and we believe will pull together for a Normal in Rhinelander.

EVANS' NEW BOOK NOW AT LIBRARY

"An Admiral's Log", By
"Fighting Bob", is A Story
Well Worth Reading.

Those who have read the Sailor's Log by Robley D. Evans will be glad to continue the narrative in its sequel, An Admiral's Log.

This is a genial account of his career, full of interesting anecdotes dealing with the protective, diplomatic and social duties which occupy a navy in times of peace and describing Admir. Evans' most important assignments during the period from where his earlier book left off to 1903 when he retired from service. It includes an account of the stay at the Philippines, the visit to China at the time of the Boxer siege of Peking, the tour of Prince Henry in the United States, and ends with a detailed story of the famous cruise of the Atlantic fleet around the world.

The many splendid illustrations add much to the interest of the book. That Admiral Evans is one of the best of story-tellers is well shown in this book.

TWO FUGITIVES ARE CAUGHT HERE

Police Arrest Leon Mattson
And John Youngs Wanted
At Phillips

Leon Mattson, aged twenty, and John Youngs, aged forty-five, who escaped from the authorities of Price County after they had been arrested on charges of robbery last Friday, were taken into custody by the police of this city. Mattson was arrested Sunday afternoon by Chief of Police Straub and Youngs was arrested Monday by Patrolman John O'Brien. Both men were arrested near the Soo depot while waiting, it is thought, to catch a train out of the city. The pair was taken to Phillips by Deputy Sheriff F. Krueger, of Price County who came here upon notification of the arrests.

Mattson and Krueger were detained at Phillips for breaking into Soo line box cars and also committing highway robbery. Soon after being taken in charge by the Sheriff's force they contrived to escape and although the surrounding country was thoroughly scoured they could not be located.

Descriptions of the men were sent throughout northern Wisconsin and it was through this agency that their identity became known to the Rhinelander officers. Soon after their arrival here the two separated which accounts for their arrests on different days. Mattson and Youngs are by no means strangers in this City as they have been employed here at various times.

THE TRUTH OF IT.

A Peek Into the Real Way Some Married Folks Live.

He appeared at the office promptly at 9 each morning, and, taking but an hour off for lunch, he worked almost unrelentingly till 4 in the afternoon. But these are not short hours, however they may appear. He was obliged to awaken his wife at 6 that she might have his breakfast at 7 and so let him start at 8. And between 4 and 6 in the evening there were many things to be discussed at many bars. So he arrived at home at 6:30, tired out and naturally peevish if dinner were not on the table. Twelve and one-half hours of hard labor.

But he acknowledges that it's worth it to get back to his dear little butterfly wife. She knows nothing of a business man's grind—she refreshes him. Dear little soul! She fits like a butterfly from flower to flower, while he is earning the daily bread—and then sits at the window and waits longingly for him.

Does she? Well, here's what she does: He routs her out of bed at 6. She gets his breakfast and gets rid of him. She sweeps, she dusts, she washes dishes and cleans the silver because there will be guests tomorrow. She starts to launder some stuff she can't trust to the laundry—finds she is hungry and eats three olives, a piece of celery and an éclair. Then she mends socks and things. Look! It is nearly time for her lord and master to come home!

She gets up a four course dinner. He comes in and slumps in the Morris chair, tired to death. She apologizes for being late.

And he kicks because she is still wearing the morning costume she had on when he left. What has she done all day while he has worked? Nothing!

After she's done the dinner dishes she wakes him up and tells him it's after bedtime. Just when a man wants to begin to enjoy the comforts of home! It's only 10 p. m.

Why can't a man stay a bachelor?—Cleveland Leader.

Treatment For Volubility.

Abernethy was supposed to influence people by a brusqueness amounting to absolute rudeness. It is related that one day a very voluble lady took her daughter, who was ill, to see him. "Which of you wants to consult me?" said Abernethy.

"My daughter," replied the elder woman.

Abernethy then put a question to the girl. Before she had a chance to reply her mother began a long story. Abernethy told her to be quiet and repeated his question to the girl. A second time the woman began a story, and a second time he told her to be quiet. Then she interrupted him a third time.

"Put your tongue out," he said to the mother.

"But there's nothing the matter with me," she exclaimed.

"Never mind. Put your tongue out," he commanded.

Thoroughly overawed, the woman obeyed.

"Now keep it out," said Abernethy. And he proceeded to examine the girl. —Ladies' Home Journal.

Quiet Grace.

Mr. Blobs did the other evening with some friends. When the guests were seated the host bent his head and began speaking in a subdued tone. "Eh, what's that?" demanded Blobs, who sat beside him and who is rather deaf.

The host smiled patiently and began again in a louder voice.

"Speak a little louder; I don't catch what you say," Blobs persisted.

A low ripple of laughter went round the table. The host, his face crimson with embarrassment, raised his voice still higher. The poor old man did his best to hear, but failed.

"What did you say?" he demanded frantically.

The host cast him an angry glance.

"Dang it, I'm saying grace!" he yelled. —Tit-Bits.

No Justice In This.

Cook—Yez can't expect me to stay here for $60 a month.

Master—And why not, pray?

Cook—Me work for only $60 whin yez do be after payin' your wife $125 alimony!—Life.

He Was a Skeptic.

Greening—Do you believe in dreams?

Browning—I used to, but not now.

Greening—What's the explanation?

Browning—I met one about ten years ago, and I married her.—Chicago News.

A Regret.

Minx—I told old Doc Wray that I believed I was the only living example of his patients.

"What did he say?"

"Said he was sorry to say I was."
